

An Email

From: Mariluz
To: Art teacher
Sent: 19th June
Subject: Art course

What a great surprise, your idea to paint me!
It will be a pleasure for me to be portrayed at home.

I have thought you could do it in my lounge. It's an indoor place, with white walls and plenty of furniture. You will find the lounge wide, comfortable, astonishing and with enough room to deploy your painting materials. I would like to be painted sitting on the sofa, I hope this won't be an inconvenience for you. In regards to the dress it doesn't matter for me, I could use the yellow one made it by Agatha Ruiz de la Prada or that I bought at Zara, I leave it to your decision.

Besides, you asked me to use an important object such as a piece of jewelry. So I've picked a marvelous necklace that my mother gave me when I reached 18 years old. This is a family object greatly appreciated, it has been passed down from generation to generation and never will I find another thing as important as this one.

On the other hand, no sooner have I read the email than I have been searching a day to meet you. So, could we meet next weekend?

Look forward to hearing from you.

Mariluz. Anzaldi

